To Whom It May Concern

Re: Lobell Construction Ltd

We have had a working relationship with Lobell Construction Ltd during the build of our new workshop. This build required a great deal of cooperation between the School and the Construction Company due to the constraints of our site. This required us to work together very closely.

We found the company to be very professional in their approach and were impressed with the degree that Health and Safety was taken seriously. We never had any concerns relating to the build and we always felt that the site foreman and the company management were eager to ensure that we, the clients, were kept informed.

The project was completed on time and within budget which was testament to the careful management of the project by the team at Lobell Construction.

I have no hesitation in recommending Lobell Construction to you as a professional and well-managed company. We were very impressed with the final result and will be asking them to be involved in all future tenders at the school.

Yours faithfully
